REVERENT THRONGS PASS BODY OF POPE LYING IN VATICAN

days after the fall of the Holy City, he warned Christian states against aiding the Turks in their attempt to reconquer the city.

Pope Benedict's attitude toward the peace conference of 1919 was not to have been one of merely solicitude. Early the previous December, in a letter to President Wilson, he pleaded for aid on behalf of oppressed nationalities and later admitted the church, of which he was the head, to "do all in its power to support the objectives of the League of Nations." In all of his messages and addresses he expressed the hope that peace would be based upon Christian principles.

While the peoples of every land were suffering in some form, the peace of war, the Pope personally observed all the rules for food conservation promulgated by the Italian authorities and with his own hand ordered the Vatican on food card rations, which continued until the end of the conflict.

Always abstemious in eating and drinking, Benedict XV, who lived in greater simplicity at the Vatican during the troublous days of his pontificate, visitors have said that he lived as plainly as the poorest contributors to Peter's pence.

Giuseppe della Chiesa, the spiritual head of 300,000,000 Catholics was born of noble line at Pegli, Italy, on Nov. 1, 1854. His father was the Marchese della Chiesa (pronounced Keesah). He received his education at the Capranica college and later attended the Academy of Ecclesiastical. Ordained to the priesthood in 1878 he won the attention of Cardinal Rampolla, who under Pope Leo XIII was the papal secretary of state. He accompanied Rampolla to Madrid in 1883 when his patron was Nuncio, remaining there until 1887 when he returned to Rome upon the elevation of Rampolla to the cardinalate.

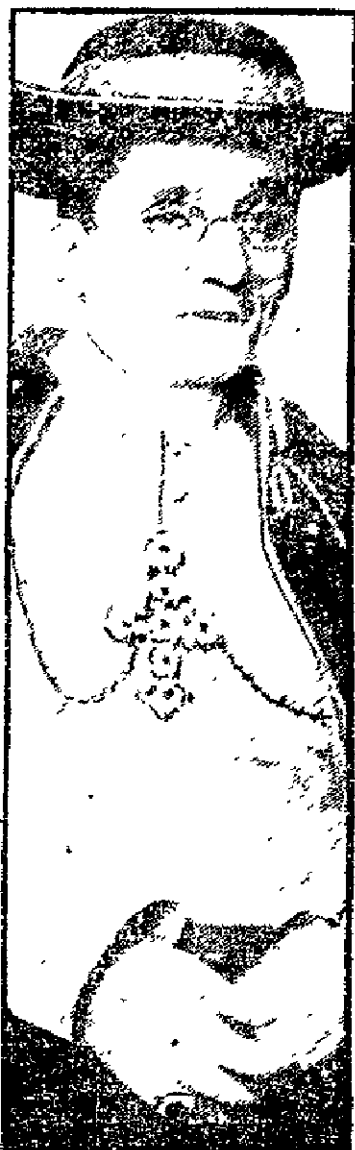

In 1901, after having served four years as secretary of the nunciature in Spain, he was appointed secretary of the Cyprian. This position gave him considerable authority and the same year his patron was Nuncio, named as coadjutor of the holy office.

A notable promotion came to him on Dec. 16, 1907, when Pope Pius X appointed della Chiesa as archbishop of the important see of Palermo to succeed the late Cardinal Stampia. His administration of this office for seven years was characterized, it is said, by prudence and diplomacy. His consecration as an archbishop was performed by Pius himself in the Sistine chapel, an honor so unusual that it attracted world-wide attention. Archbishop della Chiesa was made a cardinal in May, 1914, less than six months before mounting the throne of St. Peter's.

He took his ecclesiastical title from Pope Benedict XIV, one of the ablest pontiffs of the church, who was born in Bologna on March 21, 1657, and died on May 8, 1758.

Personal Appearance. Benedict XV's personal appearance has been described as follows: "A man physically ill-favored but gifted with great intelligence; short of stature, essentially thin, with the right shoulder raised above the left, and giving the impression of extreme nervousness and weakness. But when he raised his head the visitors instinctively felt that they were in the presence of a man equipped with exceptional intellectual powers and energy. He reminded one of the noted poet, Leopardi. With an ample brow, surrounded by coal black hair, black eyes, lively and penetrating, a large mouth with thin lips full of expression, the Pope conveyed the impression of a man of few friendships, but these most sincere, devoted and lasting."

Always "a friend in need," as a prelate of his church once said of him, Pope Benedict demonstrated his readiness to avert hardship to poor people by advancing $1,000,000 to save a financial institution of Rome from bankruptcy in the spring of 1918. This was in keeping with his reputation from the time he was ordained a priest in 1878 to the day of his death. When he was made a cardinal it was with difficulty that he was able to meet the expenses necessary to one in such a high office, and this was because up to that time he had given his entire income to impoverished workfolk.

An instance of his generosity was cited in connection with a ban, he once put upon "tango" dances, which were such a vogue several years ago. Friends of a poor dancing master in Bologna who was ruined by the edict of the archbishop, appealed to Della Chiesa in his behalf. The archbishop heard their story with the greatest sympathy, but refused to yield. Then he handed them $40 as his donation to a subscription for the dancing master to tide over until he could find other employment.

Efforts Toward Peace Summarized. Pope Benedict's efforts toward peace were thus summed up by Cardinal Logue:

"During the late war every effort was made to induce the Pope to side with one belligerent or another but he went straight as an arrow. He made justice and right triumph over oppression. There was not one of President Wilson's 14 points that was not included in the pontiff's peace conditions."

The Pope was deeply grieved by the conflict which resulted from efforts to obtain Ireland's freedom. He was appealed to to intervene in behalf of the Irish republican movement but Archbishop Hayes on returning from the Vatican in 1921 said that he was following the policy of neutrality and impartiality. He condemned crime in Ireland by either side and repeatedly expressed the hope that violence there would end.

In a letter to Cardinal Logue, the Pope appealed to both English and Irish to abandon violence and proposed that the Irish question be settled by a body chosen by the whole Irish nation. When the Irish question was at last settled, he sent a message to the Irish Bishops rejoicing over the peace agreement which made Ireland a free state.

Pope Benedict declined in May, 1919, to authorize the Catholic church to participate in a League of Nations conference of belligerents which had been proposed to him by a group of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States. Cardinal Gasparri told the bishops "better than a reunion of the Christian churches, the Holy See unity at the unity of the church, which, in the opinion of Rome, can only occur by all returning to the Catholic church."

In December, 1920, the Vatican issued a decree requiring all Catholic bishops to pay vigilant attention to such societies as the Young Men's Christian association on the ground that they corrupted the faith of Catholic youth. The Pope urged the Knights of Columbus to combat propaganda against the Catholic faith.

The Pope took occasion on numerous instances to express his views thoroughly on some political and social questions. Early in 1920 he sent a letter to an Italian bishop urging Catholic priests to work energetically against what the Pope characterized as the "dangerous doctrine of the Socialists." He repeatedly denounced immorality in women's dress and what he termed the indecency of fashion.

World's Five Phases.

The Pope declared in an address to the clergy that the world was afflicted with five great plagues which he enumerated as the negation of authority, hatred among brothers, thirst for pleasure, disgust for work and forgetfulness of the supernatural objects of life. These evils, he asserted, could be overcome only by the aid of the gospel.

In a secret consistory in December, he declared that the Catholic church would never abolish nor mitigate the law imposing celibacy on the clergy nor introduce democratic forms which had been asked by priests in Czechoslovakia where a secession movement had been based on that appeal.

The resumption of diplomatic relations between the Vatican and France and Germany was attributed to the diplomacy of Pope Benedict who was said to have directed the negotiations. The healing of the breach between the Vatican and France, which resulted from the separation of the church and state in that country was crowned by the canonization of Joan of Arc as a saint of the church.

In commenting on these new relations it was pointed out in many quarters that during the years when Benedict XV had directed the policy of the church there had been an increasing influence by the Vatican on the public opinion of the world.

His voice was raised in approval of the aims of the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments, and in a letter to President Harding the Pope commended his initiative in calling it. His efforts on behalf of war prisoners were unremitting and he personally appealed to the prelates of the church to promote anti-aircraft and the nations which had followed the war. He issued numerous appeals for the poor children of Central Europe and for the famine sufferers of Russia and through his efforts a huge fund was collected and distributed to the children of Germany, Austria, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. He also made large contributions to funds for the relief of the Russian and Chinese and to the International Red Cross.

The Pope's brother, Marquis John Anthony della Chiesa, died in December, 1920.

The Pope was reported in 1921 as having suffered two attacks of rheumatism. On January 18, 1922, it was announced he had an attack of bronchial catarrh and symptoms of influenza which was not at first regarded as serious, but as he was then 67 years old, complications were feared. Pneumonia ensued.

BULL SPECULATION SWEEPS OVER MART

Last Week Reminiscent of Many Feverishly Active Sessions of the War Period

New York, Jan. 22.—A week of bull speculation swept over the stock market last week, the movement, both in scope and volume, being reminiscent of the feverish activity of the war period.

Shares of the independent or secondary steel group were prominent in the advance which also comprehended electricals, motors and an unusual assortment of specialty issues, including sugars. The railway list was neglected, and oil, in which further price cuts were made, fared only indifferently.

Cumulative gains that brought the various steel and iron interests are again in definite form accelerated the demand for stocks of that character.

Observers of the week's action were of the opinion that an over-optimistic prognosis of the trading emanated from professional sources.

About 100,000 shares of the six per cent rate for all money, due mainly to the reduction of bond reserves by out-of-town banks, the money market retained much of its recent ease on more liberal offerings of time funds.

Continued confidence marked the settlement of a new corporate offering, including the Southern railway $70,000,000 bond issue, as well as numerous state and municipal offerings, meeting with ready sale. There was a so good inquiry for many of the old lines or the war railway bonds.

WEEK-END AT HOBART.

Meetings of the Week—Hobart Defeats Oneonta Basketball Team.

Hobart, Jan. 22.—The Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will hold its January meeting with Miss Frances Taylor next Thursday at 2 p. m. Members in arrears will please pay their dues at this time. The Douglas Bible class will meet with Mrs. W. E. King Friday afternoon, January 27.

Hobart Wins at Basketball.

The Alpha Five played the Hobart High school basketball team Friday evening. The score was 41 to 19 in favor of the Hobart team.

Clearing the Way.

Master Charles Cowan was out Saturday morning with his horse and a snow plow and with the assistance of his brother, Robert, and a force of boys, they quickly cleared away of the Hobart streets of the evening's fall of snow.

Personal Briefs.

Mrs. Thomas Proskine and daughter, Miss Mildred Proskine, of East Branch, were week-end guests of Mrs. Martha Cowan. Miss Eleanor Campbell spent the week-end at her home in Bovina. Miss Martha Clark returned Saturday afternoon from Bloomville, where she spent a few days. Mrs. Herman Kniskern returned today from Oneonta, where she was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Dorr.

AT DELAWARE'S COUNTY SEAT.

Mrs. George Stanton died—Delhi Wins at Basketball.

Delhi, Jan. 22.—Mrs. George Stanton died of tuberculosis Thursday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Bergman, in Bovina, at the age of 77 years. She had been a resident of this vicinity the greater part of her life, her maiden name being Mary Leal. She was highly respected in the community where she was known so well. She is survived by her husband, two sons and three daughters; also one brother, John M. Leal, of this village, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Fletcher of Stamford and Mrs. Matilda Stoutenburg of Delhi. The funeral will be held Monday at 2 o'clock from the Bergman home, with burial at Bovina Center.

Dorothy N. Lee.

The body of Dorothy N. Lee, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Lee of Belleville, N. J., and granddaughter of the late Mrs. Nellie Lee, was brought here for burial in Woodland cemetery Friday afternoon. Death was due to pneumonia. Mr. Lee accompanied the body of his young daughter, remaining over night and returning home Saturday. Mr. Lee has numerous friends in Delhi who sympathize with him in this bereavement.

Delhi Wins from Hancock.

In a closely-contested game Delhi High school won from the strong team of Hancock High school Friday evening on the opera house court, the score being 34 to 31 in Delhi's favor. In the girls' game, Delhi High school seniors vs. the Sophomores, the former won by a narrow margin of 15 to 14. There was a large attendance of townspeople and school students to cheer on the home team. The next game on the opera house court will be on Tuesday evening next, when the Alphas of Utica will play the Emeralds and the "Aggies" will play against the Federal Board men.

DEATH NEAR FRANKLIN.

Cory Odell Expires Wednesday at Home of William Constable.

Franklin, Jan. 22.—Cory Odell, who formerly was employed by Ray Colburn, died Wednesday night at the home of William Constable, where he had been staying of late. He had been in poor health for several months. There are no near relatives. The funeral will be held Saturday at 1 o'clock from Mr. Constable's home. The remains will be placed in the vault until later.

Mrs. Edwin Klitz returned Tuesday from her visit at Nineveh. Next Tuesday evening, Jan. 24, is the regular meeting of Franklin grange. A good attendance is desired.

The Unreasonable Sex.

"Wimmin," said Avery Goodman of Portlandville Saturday, "are frequent unreasonable. This morning Charles McLaury cleaned the walk in front of his store and one of 'em' went by and it was so slippery she couldn't stand. When she got along by my place, where I hadn't tacked it, she said she'd think I'd be ashamed to see wimmin a-walkin' in the snow! Now, don't that beat you?"

DEVELOPMENT OF FORESTRY

Steady Growth of Industry Indicated by Applications for Trees—Communal Projects in Otsego and Chenango.

Albany, Jan. 22.—Applications for trees for the spring planting season now coming in to the State Conservation commission indicate that the movement for the reforestation of waste and denuded lands in the State is growing steadily.

To date the number of applications for trees is thirty three per cent. more than for the corresponding period last year. The number of applications received up to January 16 this year is 72, aggregating 806,000 trees, as compared with 54, aggregating 721,000 trees a year ago.

In addition to applications from individuals, requests for trees have been received from towns for municipal forests and for watershed reforestation and more applications are promised from fish and game clubs than ever before, indicating a wider interest among sportsmen's associations in cooperating to protect and preserve the natural resources of the state.

At the rate at which applications for trees are now coming in, the State's entire stock available for the spring planting is likely to be taken long before the close of the season. While trees last, applications will be filled in the order of their receipt.

Over seventy cities and villages are now carrying on reforesting operations. Among the more noteworthy may be mentioned the City of Gloversville with about 400 acres of reforested land; Rochester with an equal area; Glens Falls with 500 acres; and the City of New York with over 2,000 acres.

While these forests have been established primarily for the protection of the water supply of the various municipalities, it is evident that in the future the forests so established will take the place of the municipal and communal forests of Europe.

The latest innovation in the idea of a communal forest consists of a forestry company, so called, which provides for a corporation which issues stock. Any person is allowed to purchase stock in this company, the funds being used for the purchase of abandoned farm lands and the planting of them with trees. The first company of this kind to be organized in New York is the Otsego Forestry company, located at Cooperstown. This company has reforested about 200 acres during the past two years, and now owns 600 acres suitable for reforestation. A similar organization has been perfected by the Conservation club of Oneonta, which has purchased about 200 acres of land, the greater part of which is suitable for reforestation. This land is to be maintained as a game refuge, as well as for the purpose of creating a new forest by the planting of trees.

The Fish and Game club of Bainbridge has undertaken the reforestation of a tract of 40 acres adjacent to the club. The conditions which accompany this gift of land provide that, if at any time the club may cease to exist, the land and forest shall go to the town of Bainbridge. Therefore, this project may eventually result in the establishment of another town forest.

A proposition which should be urged strongly is that of acquiring denuded lands or abandoned farm lands by various civic bodies, to be devoted primarily to the establishment of communal forests. Once a forest of this kind is established, its growth is certain, because the general public will quickly realize the great benefits to be derived.

Norwich Gas Comes Down.

At Norwich, where the price of gas has been $2.25 per 1,000 feet, a new rate will become effective on February 1, reducing the price to $2.15 per thousand. The change is the result of several conferences between the common council committee and the officials of the gas and electric corporation. The new schedule will at once be filed with the Public Service commission.

Fourteen Living Children.

If there's such a thing as a father's or a mother's championship, pass around the medals to Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Gerow, of Liberty. On Jan. 15 they became the parents of their fifteenth child, a son, who has been named Living Loder and tips the scales at eight and one-half pounds. "Living Loder" is the fourteenth living child and the seventh living son.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

To Hold Conference in Oneonta During the Month of April.

Members of the board of division 22 of the State Sunday School association, composed of the counties of Otsego and Delaware, held a conference in this city on Saturday to plan the work for the association in the district and the work with the local schools for the present year. Those in attendance were Rev. P. M. Luther, head of the county organization in Otsego, John D. Cary of Richfield Springs, Rev. T. E. Austin of Edinboro, W. A. Holley of Oneonta and H. J. DeSilva of Arena.

Preliminary arrangements were made for a conference of Sunday school workers of the two counties to be held in Oneonta during the month of April, the definite dates to be announced later. It is expected that it will be a two-days' session and that able speakers will be present to address the workers. It is hoped to announce a program that will attract many workers from both counties and to make it a profitable conference for all who attend.

SURPRISE FOR MR. GOLDEN

Friends and Neighbors of Esteemed Davenport Man Give Him Surprise Party on His 50th Birthday.

(From a Special Correspondent)
Davenport, Jan. 22.—Forty friends and neighbors of this village gave Frank T. Golden a genuine birthday surprise party at his home here on Friday evening, the occasion being his 50th birthday. The affair was one which will long be remembered by Mr. Golden and by those fortunate enough to be present.

It being known that Mr. Golden was thinking of going to a lodge meeting, Rev. and Mrs. I. L. Bronson were desired to pay him a visit and to keep him at the home until the guests arrived. When Mr. Golden opened the door to usher out his callers he found the party standing on the porch. So moved was he by this evidence of the esteem in which he is held here that he burst into tears.

The evening was passed most pleasantly with games and music and with readings by Mrs. Agnes Scott. A beautiful luncheon was served, which included a large birthday cake, alight with 59 candles, which Mrs. Ralph Taber presented as coming from Mrs. Fred Hiltis. Before the guests departed at a late hour, Mr. Golden was presented with a handsome plush automobile robe, the presentation speech being made by Mr. Bronson.

Death at Stamford.

Stamford, Jan. 22.—Frances Edna Adair, wife of Wellington Sager, passed away at her home here Friday, Jan. 13, after a long and painful illness, aged 42 years. The funeral services were held on Tuesday at the Methodist church at the latter place. Since her marriage with Mr. Sager, about 20 years ago, she had resided in Stamford. For months she had been waiting resignedly for the end and had made many of the funeral arrangements. Besides the husband, she leaves several brothers and sisters.

Among those in attendance at her funeral, which was held on her birthday, were the following: Miss Lella Adair, of East Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Sommerville of Schoenemus, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adair and Claude Adair of Oneonta, Andrew Adair of Delhi and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Knickerbocker of Albany.

The Use of the Hymnal.

Rev. Nelson B. Ripley of Milford contributes an interesting and well-written article to a recent number of Zion's Herald, in which he refers to the primary use of the church hymnal for divine worship in song and then calls attention to the inadaptability of the book for use in the quiet hour of private devotion. Rev. Mr. Ripley, who has choice poetic instincts, calls attention to many of the beautiful gems in the hymnal of the Methodist church.

LARRY SEMON IN "HIS HOME SWEET HOME"

The domestic troubles of a newly married couple, when the mother-in-law tries to be boss are pictured by Larry Semon in "His Home Sweet Home." As usual the comedian introduces numerous acrobatic stunts and a number of animals. From a trozer of ice cream the comedian gets an unlimited amount of fun. In plucking a freshly killed chicken he lets loose a fountain head of humor.

Here is presented to you the greatest action picture ever made—a marvelous, magnificent photoplay that is a torrent of power without a dull moment throughout its entire course.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

When Death Cancels Debt

You will have noticed in many of the newspapers the advertisements of dealers in bonds offering them for sale to the public on the installment plan. Some of them are excellent investments and some are not.

Will any of these dealers cancel the unpaid installments if you die and hand over the bonds? They will not.

Will they cancel the unpaid installments and pay you an income for life in addition if you suffer permanent disability? They will not.

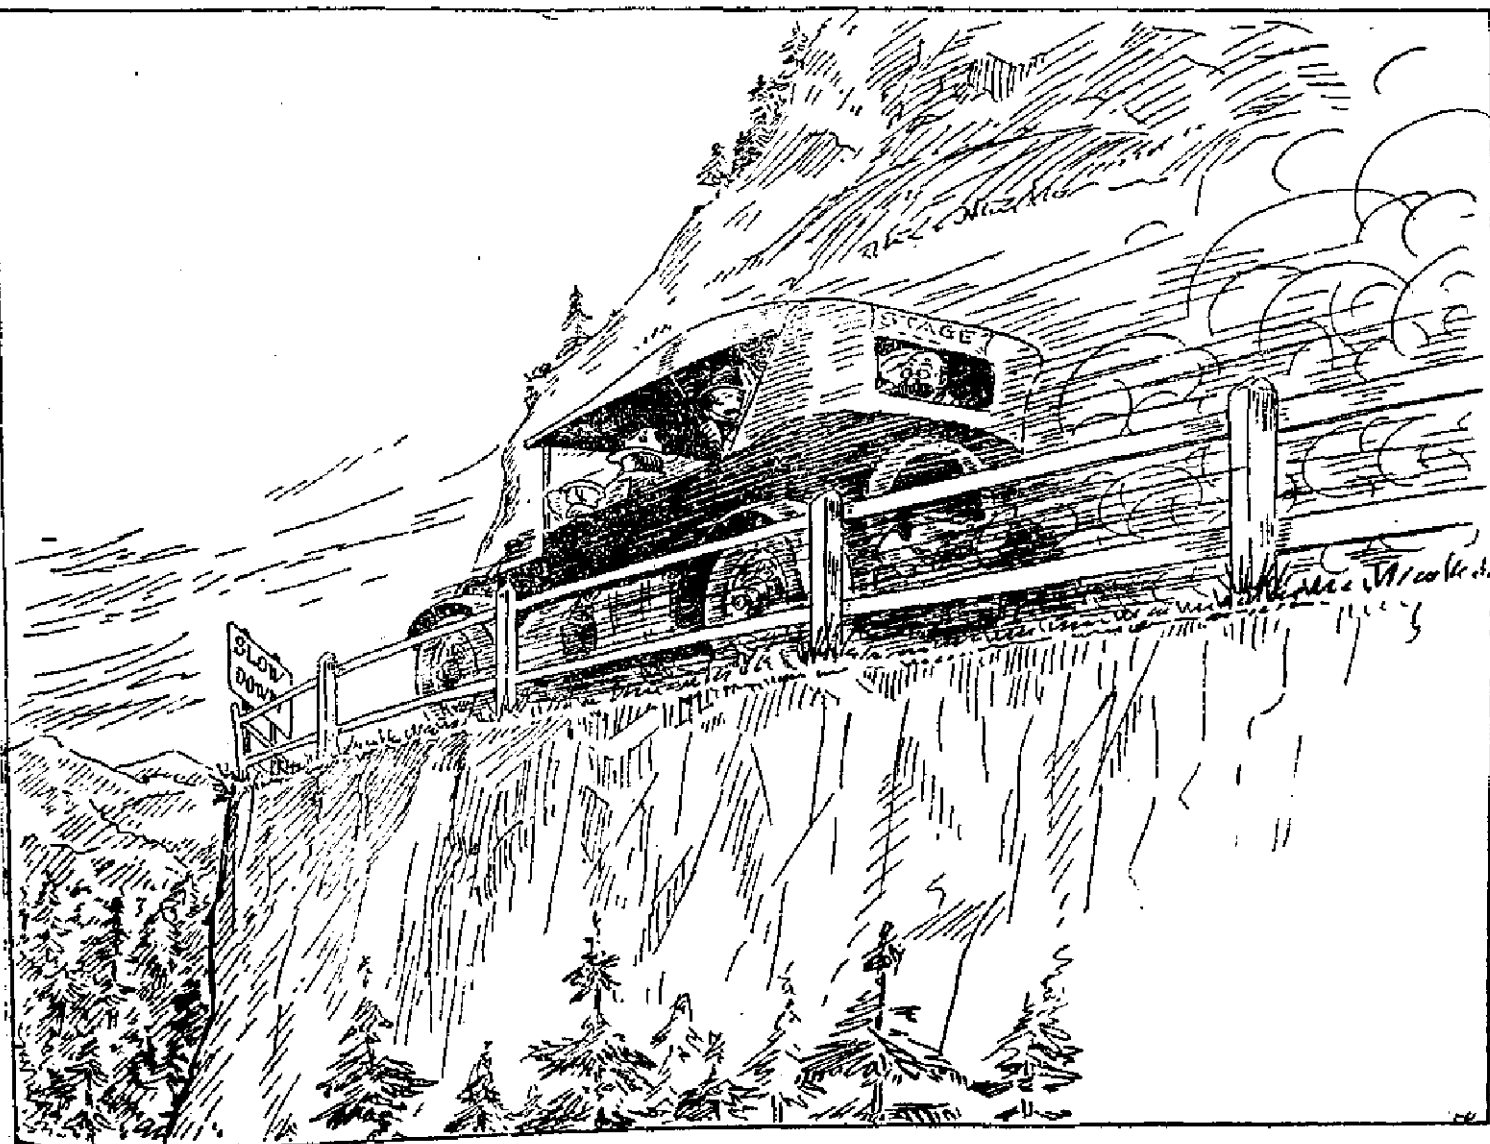

Will they guarantee that the value of the bonds will increase in value; will they even guarantee that they will not depreciate? They would laugh at the suggestion and think you simple. But Life Insurance will.

LOCAL MENTION

—The bake sale of the Chapin Memorial church social club, held Saturday at the Townsend Hardware store, was well patronized, and the total receipts will be about 20 dollars.

—Though the weather was far from favorable, the ladies' United Presbyterian society cleared something over $30 from the Welsh rabbit supper held Saturday evening in the church parlors.

—The Myrkie-Harder company, which played to large houses all last week at the Oneonta theatre, departed yesterday for a week's stand at Rutland, Vt. The following week they will be at Burlington, that state.

—The Standard Bearers of the Methodist Episcopal church netted about $15 from the bake sale at the store of C. C. Miller on Saturday. That it wasn't more was entirely because the bakers took out early in the afternoon.

—The Farmington club will meet Tuesday evening of this week at the home of C. Frank Stevens, 25 Watkins avenue. Kenneth W. Goldsworthy will be the speaker, and his theme will be "Community Newspaper Service."

—There were about 25 children present at the children's hour at the Huntington Memorial library on Saturday afternoon. Fairy and animal stories were told by Miss Bag and Miss Russell and a very delightful 60-minute period was enjoyed.

—The Auto club snow play attached to the bus of A. J. LaGrange was used on Saturday by direction of the board of public works for plowing out the snow along the business section of the city and pushing the snow back against the curb so that motor car and other traffic had room either side of the trolley tracks. The snow did good work and the step is being continued quite generally. There seems to be plenty of room for pedestrians on the walks.

This rule does not apply to those unable to come on the night designated. advt. 11

Hours Fixed by Charter

There has been some complaint of the fact that the hours for the special election on Thursday have been announced as from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. These hours are fixed by the city charter for all special elections of this nature, and they cannot be changed except by amendment adopted by the state legislature. Time should be given to all voters in which to cast a ballot, but no change in the hours can be made by the Common Council.

Ice Harvest Hold Up By Cold.
The extreme cold of Saturday night froze solid the cuts made on Pond Lily by the Oneonta Ice and Fuel company and consequently no harvesting was done yesterday. It will be necessary to cut and plough the field anew this morning. About 600 tons of ice have been taken so far from the pond.

NEED MORE SCOUTMASTERS

Boy Scout Work in Oneonta is languishing for want of Leaders to Take Charge. Troops Assistance of Trained Worker Sought.

Inability to secure capable scoutmasters for the Boy Scouts of the city has seriously crippled the activities of the Scouts and hindered the organization of additional troops. Commissioner Wilbur H. Lynch told the local council of that organization at the annual meeting of the council held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Scout headquarters. One only of the three troops in existence in the city is now provided with a Scoutmaster and despite repeated effort no one considered capable for the work had been found willing to take charge of the other troops.

The council considered the question at some length and the officers elected at the meeting were instructed to continue with Scoutmasters and ascertain if it would be possible to secure some trained Scout worker to spend a few months here as executive head in an effort to arouse interest and develop scoutmasters who would take charge of troops.

It was pointed out by several of the council that no work that a young man fond of the woods and out-door life could take up would result in so much of good for the boys of the city as work in this organization and it is hoped that before another year elapses that the Scout movement will have attained such proportions here as to assure its success. Certainly the boys are here, and many are desirous of becoming members of the highest class. It is believed that for some months at least a trained worker is needed.

The report of the treasurer shows a balance on hand of over $400 after all the expenses incurred by the Scout headquarters have been met.

The following officers of the council were re-elected:

President—G. Hoyt.

Secretary—Everett Hicks.

Treasurer—L. H. Artwell.

It is planned to take steps to interest a larger number of citizens in the work with and for the Scouts. It is believed that when citizens generally understand what active Scout work will do for boys that scoutmasters will be found willing to give their services and that additional troops will be organized.

GUARDSMEN TO CLASH

Company G Basketball Team Will Meet Company H of Binghamton at Armory Tomorrow Evening.

What will be one of the most important games of the season for the Company G basketball team will be played at the armory on Tuesday evening when the local soldiers will hook up with the fast Company H team of Binghamton. In the game between the two teams at Binghamton recently Company H was victorious by the close margin of five points.

The contest has aroused considerable interest in the 10th regiment and the outcome will be eagerly awaited at the headquarters of the various units. Manager Loushay of the local team announces that Company G will line up with Dolan and Palmer as forwards, Buell as center, and Loushay and Pandolfino playing the guard positions. Company H will have Foley and Brownell forwards, Springfield, center, and Alexander and Hutchinson guards.

A preliminary game will be played between St. Mary's and Company H Independent in Binghamton, with music by the Kilpatrick Symphonians, will follow the main contest.

ON YE ART OF SINGING

As Exemplified by Field's Minstrels at Oneonta Theatre Jan. 27.

Have you ever been a member of a college glee club? Or of a church choir? Or a singing organization of any kind?

If you have you will know the hard work that goes with training a body of singers and "breaking in" a new song. It's just plain hard, grinding work in most instances, as any choral director will tell you.

Of course there are exceptions. Sometimes the director is fortunate enough to have at his command a body of vocalists so apt and talented, such good sight-readers and generally good musicians that the work eases itself to a large extent.

That happens to be the case with Director Bryan of the A. G. Field Minstrels, which are to appear at the Oneonta theatre Friday evening, Jan. 27. He boasts of the fact that the chorus and general ensemble of the Field organization is the most easily taught organization he has ever had to deal with.

Those who hear the boys of A. G. Field's show sing will understand Mr. Bryan's enthusiasm when the performance is given in Oneonta. The soloists and ensemble of the company include such artists as Jack Richards, famous Welsh tenor; Billy Church, a marvelously high-ranged and strong tenor; Harry Prillman, whose basso profundo is one of the best on the stage; Leslie Berry, and John Cartmell.

Run Over by Heavy Truck

LeGrand Beckley of Portlandville narrowly escaped serious injury when, in attempting to board the Cooperstown bus while it was in motion at East End late Saturday night, he lost his hold and fell under the machine, a rear wheel passing over both legs. Although the bus weighed, with its full load of passengers, about a ton, Beckley escaped without even severe bruises, and proceeded on his way as if nothing had happened. According to George Maynard, who was driving the bus, only the thick carpet of snow on the pavement saved Beckley from serious injury.

WAR WOUNDS AFFECT MIND

Ernest Scramberger, Known in This City, Arrested in Binghamton Saturday for Alleged Forgery—It is Thought That Wounds Suffered While With Australian Army Affected His Mind.

Charged with attempting to pass a worthless check for $1540 in payment for an Oldsmobile car which he intended to purchase at the Motorin garage at Binghamton Saturday, Ernest Scramberger, half-brother of Ernest Austin of this city and a visitor here at various times, was arrested by Binghamton detectives as he was waiting to have the car turned over to him.

It is alleged that Scramberger forced to the check, which was drawn upon the Wilbur National bank of this city, the name of his half brother, Mr. Austin. The proprietor of the garage, Coit Howard, formerly of this city, held up delivery of the car until he could ascertain whether the check was good. When he learned that Scramberger had no account in the Oneonta bank, Howard notified the police and the arrest followed.

There are circumstances in the case which go far toward explaining the man's apparent criminality. Scramberger was in Australia, whether he went from this city 17 years ago, when the World War broke out and he enlisted in the Australian army. His service in France was long and honorable but left him severely wounded, badly gassed and suffering from shell shock. Most of the time since the cessation of hostilities he has been in an Australian hospital, returning to this country but a short time ago. While visiting Mr. Austin here a week ago it was observed that his wounds had affected his mind. Following his arraignment in Binghamton today on the forgery charge he will be examined as to his sanity.

Frances Starr Heard in Oneonta

Wireless telephone operators in Oneonta Friday evening had the pleasure of listening to the voice of a distinguished former resident of this city. It was Frances Starr, who was talking from Pittsburgh, Pa., her message being in substance that if anyone in Cincinnati, Ohio, were listening in it might be of interest to know that she will be playing in "The Eastern War" in that city this week, and that she would be pleased to have the listeners attend.

PAGEANT OF PIED PIPER

Work on Production to Be Given by Community Association Will Start February 1—Between 400 and 500 Oneontans to Take Part.

The work of preparing for the spectacular pageant, "A Trip of the World with the Piper of Hamelin," to be given at the Oneonta theatre on February 27 and 28 under the auspices of the Oneonta Community association, will begin about February 1, although rehearsals will not start until the second week of the month. It is expected that between 400 and 500 residents of the city will participate in the pageant.

The entire production will be directed by the New York Operatic Entertainment bureau. The costumes and paraphernalia needed will be furnished by that concern and their representatives will direct the rehearsals and the staging of the production. It is expected that three rehearsals a week will be held under a group system. The rehearsals will be held in Municipal hall.

The pageant is based upon the well-known legend of the Pied Piper of Hamelin and is an extremely picturesque and colorful piece of work. The beautiful legend of the Pied Piper is made still more attractive by the charming scenic settings and the entrancing music written especially for the production by Victor Herbert.

DANCE AT BIG MEETING

Plans Nearly Completed for Athletic Association Gathering.

In addition to the basket ball game, Elks' Glee club concert, and "free lunch" planned for the meeting of the Community Athletic association at the armory January 26, a dance will also be held. Clyde F. Drassee, who is chairman of the dance committee, announces that his plans are nearly completed for that portion of the program.

The meeting will be held by the athletic association, but the general public is cordially invited to attend and share in the welcome to be given the new manager, who will be present at that time. It is expected that Hermann and Steffen, members of last year's team, will also be present. The purpose of the meeting and of the meeting will include the election of officers and directors and the presentation for ratification by the membership of several important amendments to the constitution. The meeting will commence promptly at 7:45 p. m.

Will Receive Tokens of Victory

Through the generosity of H. W. Fluhrer, Owen C. Becker, C. R. McCarthy, Clyde F. Drassee and E. W. Moore, the members of the Oneonta High school basketball team will soon be wearing silver miniature basketballs in honor of their memorable defeat of Schenectady last Friday evening. It was felt that some tangible recognition of the boys' triumph should be given them and the gentlemen mentioned offered to defray the cost of the basketballs. The charms will be suitably engraved.

Auto Holds up Trolley Service

The collapsing of one of the front wheels on the automobile owned by Earl Thayer of this city at the corner of Main and Front streets early Saturday afternoon held up trolley service for nearly a half hour while the wrecking crew from a garage worked to get the car in such shape that it could be drawn to the garage for repairs. A crowd soon gathered to watch proceedings.

FORSAKES STUDIES TO MARRY

Elfa Lee Whitney of Henderson Harbor Leaves School to Marry Childhood Sweetheart — Refused Admission in Syracuse, They Secure One, But Refuse to Say Where or When.

The following interesting story of the romance of Elfa Lee Whitney, recently a Normal student, appearing in the Syracuse Post Standard of Saturday, will be of interest to many Star readers:

Refused a marriage license here because of the apparent youth of the bride, Elfa Lee Whitney of Henderson Harbor and Edward Gordon Fraser, yesterday smilingly announced that they had been married but stoutly declared that they would not tell when or where.

The young couple are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Fraser, No. 116 Fairfield avenue, where they refused to tell when or how they obtained their license and where they married. "Just say we're married anyhow," said the boy. "That will be enough."

Both are students. The girl gave her age at the city hall as 18 years, but with her bobbed hair and short skirts she did not look old enough to assume the responsibilities of wife-hood and so the city clerk refused them a license Thursday afternoon. It is believed that they went to Eastwood, Onondaga Valley, Liverpool or Solway and there obtained the license.

Fraser gave his age as 21. He is a student in Vermont, who failed to return after the Christmas holidays and persuaded his childhood sweetheart to marry him. Worded from her books at the Onondaga Normal school, she consented and came to Syracuse a week ago as a guest at the Fraser home.

Reached by telephone yesterday, Lee Whitney of Henderson Harbor, father of the girl, said that though she looks so young, she will be 18 years old next month. He knew that she intended to marry young Fraser, but had not been advised of the time or place of the ceremony. He said he knew nothing about the boy, nor their plans for the future.

Fraser is a Henderson Harbor boy who came to this city to be with his brother. He has been in college for two years. During the summer vacations he roomed at No. 663 South avenue with friends. He is the son of Elmer Fraser of Henderson Harbor.

Friends of the young couple knew that they planned to be married soon but they told no one that Thursday was the day fixed for the ceremony.

DEATH OF DEVOTED MOTHER.

Mrs. Nellie Gertrude Olds Passes Away at Home on Spring Street.

Mrs. Nellie Gertrude Olds, widow of the late Wellington M. Olds, passed away at her home, 15 Spring street, Saturday evening, at 10:30 o'clock, following an illness of several months from internal colic, her condition having been critical for the past three weeks. The funeral services will be held from the residence on Tuesday at 2 p. m. Her pastor, Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley of the First Baptist church, will officiate and the body will be placed in the vault at the Elms cemetery and later interred in that cemetery.

Her maiden name was Nellie Gertrude Higgins and she was born at Jewett, June 1, 1861, the daughter of Mesokiah and Jane (Francis) Higgins. Much of her early life was passed at Hunter and there was united in marriage with Mr. Olds in 1888. Later they removed to Sidney and resided there for four years. Some 23 years ago they removed to Onondaga and have resided here since. Mr. Olds passed away about a year and a half ago.

Mrs. Olds was a member of the First Baptist church and was faithful in her attendance and active in its work until failing health prevented. In the home, however, her loss will be most keenly felt, for her day's activities were never equalled as long as there was anything she could do for her loved ones.

Surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. Howard Lamont and Miss Flossie M. Olds, both of this city, two grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Mary Connelley, of Hendersonville.

Mrs. William C. Hawes.

Prof. Arthur M. Curtis of the faculty of the State Normal school received intelligence on Saturday of the death at her home in Binghamton that day of his sister, Mrs. William C. Hawes. Mr. Curtis left on the evening train for Binghamton and is not expected to return until after the funeral. Mrs. Hawes is survived by her husband, two brothers, A. M. Curtis of Ithaca and by two sisters, Mrs. C. Hawes and Miss Elizabeth C. Curtis, both of Ithaca. Mrs. Hawes had been a resident of Binghamton for about 25 years and had been an occasional visitor at the home of her brother here.

Friends admitting that they were married, but stating that the bride was of age, they refused to relate anything more about themselves.

LATEST VICINITY NOTES

Interesting Happenings in Oneonta and Vicinity

Because their test was rather over-estimated, containing about 100 bottles of home-made whisky, officers and posse troopers arrested Arthur Smith of Henry Mundy south on Tuesday. The men were ordered to appear before Judge J. J. Smith for examination on Thursday.

A registered letter from Moscow, Russia, recently arrived at the Sheriff's office in which were $100,000 and $20,000 in gold and silver coins. The value at present is about fifty cents.

The foreign and Home Missionary societies of the Methodist church were recently remembered in the will of the late N. D. Oimstead, president of the First National bank of Margaretville, who died recently in California, where he had gone to spend the winter. Trust funds of $20,000 and $20,000 were bequeathed to the church, which filed every available penny Mr. Baldwin has aged some since he ran for governor on the Prohibition ticket and fought so valiantly for the prohibition of the licensed liquor traffic. He is still in good vigor, however, and he spoke effectively and eloquently upon Tithing.

He spoke of the opportunity afforded by the observance of the Sabbath is not so much a question of obedience to the law as one of the blessings that accrue to him who respects it. He placed himself as unquestionably supporting the obligation of all to give one seventh of their time and one tenth of their income to the Lord's work. He also said that the Lord's work is the greatest blessing each affords to man. When one's income becomes larger the obligation is to give more than a tenth, the speaker believes. He said that at present he is giving 60 per cent of his income for the betterment of mankind.

Mr. Baldwin's appeal was based upon the fact that the Bible admonishes us upon the desire that all who profess the name of Christ should have to see His kingdom come first of all. In doing our part we are blessed beyond measure, he said. The address was given close attention and there were in the congregation some who attended the school he taught on Richardson hill nearly half a century ago in Oneonta.

The Shriners of Edmeston and vicinity have organized a club with 20 members and many others to unite. H. C. Johnson is President, L. D. Bass, Vice President and Floyd R. Thayer, Secretary and Treasurer.

County Judge Dow Beekman has appointed Rev. Freeman S. Kline, pastor of the Cobleskill Methodist Episcopal church and Rev. George Z. Collier, pastor of the Middleburgh Reformed church as volunteer prohibition officers in the county court of Schoharie county.

W. R. Riverburg of Beerstown and Clyde Howard of Cadonia enlisted in the regular army for overseas duty at the Rensselaer recruiting station on January 11.

The snow plow belonging to the Plattsburgh Auto club cleared thirty-five miles of road between Binghamton and Deposit in eight hours.

Notice to all members of Division 35 B of L. E. There will be a special meeting in Y. M. C. A. hall Monday evening January 23, at 7:30. All members are requested to be present as there will be a grand officer to talk on important matters pertaining to the brotherhood. Adv. 2t

TAUGHT ON RICHARDSON HILL

Francis L. Baldwin, "Boarded Around" There During the Winter of 1873

Now Head of Large Manufacturing Concern at Elmira with Annual Sales Aggregating Several Millions—Speaks on Tithing at the First Methodist Church.

From teaching a country school on Richardson hill at $1 per day and "boarding round" to the presidency of a large manufacturing concern with annual sales reaching several millions of dollars annually and acquiring an annual income that would be considered a sizable fortune by most of us has been the experience of Francis L. Baldwin of Elmira during the 46 years that have elapsed since he was both janitor and teacher of the little school building near the upper reservation.

Mr. Baldwin returned to Oneonta yesterday and addressed the morning congregation at the First Methodist church, which filed every available penny Mr. Baldwin has aged some since he ran for governor on the Prohibition ticket and fought so valiantly for the prohibition of the licensed liquor traffic. He is still in good vigor, however, and he spoke effectively and eloquently upon Tithing.

SAVED FROM BACKFIRE

O. & W. Engineer Beats Out Flaming Cloth of Fireman as Train Speeds Through Tunnel

Engineer Fred McMullen of North, at the throttle of Ontario and Western southbound No. 2, last Friday afternoon, pelted ahead into the murky tunnel west of South Fallsburg. A scorch of agony resounded above the chuffs of the speeding train as it made its way through the tunnel.

Engineer McMullen looked back into the cab and through the tiny blackness could see the fire. The fire of a man's clothing in the vicinity of the locomotive, a man of the locomotive was the victim of a thing dreamed by a railroad—a backfire. Pressure created by the slow escape of smoke from the stack of the engine, which had been opened the door to spread another scorchful of coal upon the fire.

Engineer McMullen, who once fired a locomotive knew exactly what had happened as Stanton, his clothing, lit, crawled forward in the cab. The engineer abandoned the throttle of the roaring locomotive and with his hands undertook to beat out the flames which would have soon choked the life of the fireman.

Ahead through the darkness appeared a shaft of light—the end of the tunnel and fresh air. McMullen fought hard, but the flames had already taken their way through Stanton's clothing to his arms. His face and neck were badly burned where the spray of coals struck him as the great engine gained and sped the cab with gas and flaming coals. A moment more and the engine sped into the open. McMullen had won his battle with the flames and Stanton was saved.

Women of W. R. C. at Affair

Fifteen members of W. R. C. of Oneonta were in Afton Saturday attending the annual installation of the Afton corps as guests of that organization. The morning by Mrs. Goodenough, president of the Afton corps and escorted to the rooms where a delicious dinner was served at 12:30 o'clock. Afterwards a business meeting was held followed by the installation of officers by Mrs. C. J. Westcott of this city. Later a social hour was enjoyed and supper was served. The visitors returning to Oneonta on the 8:20 train that evening. Too much praise cannot be given the ladies of Afton for the courtesy extended and the evident endeavor to make the occasion one long to be remembered.

DR. TRAVER MAKES SUGGESTION

Thinks State Highways Can Be Made Usable for Both Autos and Sleighs. Editor Star

A mistake was made with the snow plow on the road between Oneonta and Cooperstown. The plow was set too close to the road as not to leave sleighing for teams and instead of clearing the middle of the road the whole width was cleared. By running the plow through the middle of the road, opportunity to use autos and sleighs will be secured and if teams will start by driving on the right hand side of the road with one runner in the cleared portion and one in the deep snow, teams and autos will have no trouble to meet and use the road. This would afford ample room for both autos and sleighs and enable the necessary teaming to be done with the next snow.

Respectfully yours

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS.

Richard Collier Fined $30 and Given Suspended Jail Sentence

Richard Collier arrested Saturday on a warrant issued by City Judge Huntington and charged attempted larceny, pleaded guilty when arraigned later in the day before Acting Judge Hathaway and was fined $30 and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The jail sentence was suspended because Collier proposed to pay his fine before January 28 and to make good the two worthless checks of $15 each which he had given to Fred Baker.

The checks were in part payment for a stove which he had purchased from Mr. Baker. They were returned from the bank marked "Not sufficient funds" and when Collier failed to make good on them after he had been notified by Mr. Baker a complaint was made and the warrant issued for his arrest.

Condition of Casey Child Improved

The condition of Rita L. Casey, the five year old girl who sustained a fractured skull when her sled collided with an automobile Friday was reported at the Marshall hospital yesterday as being somewhat improved although the child is still in a critical condition. The fact that she has survived the effects of the shock and the operation tends to greater hope for her recovery than was at first felt.

Officials of Dairymen's League Co-operative Association Will Attend Emergency Agricultural Conference at Washington

Three officials from the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., with headquarters in Utica, will attend the emergency agricultural conference in Washington next week, called by President Harding and the Secretary of Agriculture. They are President George S. Shocum, Vice President John D. Miller and Secretary Albert Manning. Mr. Manning will attend the conference as manager of the New York State dairy.

This conference is called to try to find means to relieve the acute agricultural situation. Leaders in agriculture from all over the country will be in attendance. The conference begins next Monday and lasts all week.—Utica Observer.

You Missionaries of Prosperity
whether in the store, shop, office or on the road, are the men who are going to make things happen in 1922. It's your pep, optimism, faith, common sense, and hard work that's been pushing the old pendulum of pessimism back into the sunshine for months now.
We're with you—we've been with you right along. We've bought with you right along. We've bought liberally for spring, to keep the factories busy. We've priced moderate, to keep our store busy.
This week we shall show the spring samples of suitings, to make up to your measure and order, guarantee to fit and please you, at prices only a fraction more than ready-to-wear. If you are a bit out of regular shape, have notions of your own as to style you wish, here's your satisfaction.
Orders placed now, and a deposit placed, will be held till you want to wear them in the spring. The selection of fabrics is most complete now, $25 to $70—some more and a few less.
